

Say Public Health Nurse Would Save Money And Health

Home And School President Praises M.O.H. In Letter Citing Military Camp And Crowded Homes

Editor, The Era: We would appreciate your publishing the following letter on behalf of the Home and School Association.

At a recent meeting of the Home and School organization at which the health of our children was discussed from various angles with great interest the consensus of opinion seemed to be that there will be needed more and more a public health nurse.

Many houses are now accommodating two and sometimes three or more families. This condition of over-crowding plus the proximity of a large military camp subjects our children to many epidemics which are costly to both parents and town not only from the financial angle but from the toll of permanent disability to our future citizens.

REPORTS TO COUNCIL

Reporting to the town council on a number of matters, Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H., presented the following report on Monday evening:

"As the health of the people is not affected by the town garbage disposal, it is rather out of order to ask, the medical officer of health to assume any of the duties in the management of the same. Rather this work should fall under the control of the department of public works as in all larger centres of population. Therefore it is a degree of satisfaction to learn you have relieved the M.O.H. of something he had no power to control and yet frequently brought him a lot of censure."

"We should cut consuming buying to a minimum," Miss Macphail declared. "At the end of the war we almost dread—as much as we want peace—the unemployment and dislocation that will result. If we save now, and spend then, we can offset a great deal of unemployment."

Miss Macphail told of a suggestion that after the war Canada should keep on making munitions, and just drop them into the sea, to keep everybody employed. Putting as much money as possible into war savings certificates was her suggestion of a way to create employment after the war.

"It is a moving thought the way Canadian women have worked, taking care of the bomb victims in Britain," Miss Macphail said. "It must draw us together."

"Knitting, however, is not the most important work we can do," she said. "The government

PICKERING JUNIORS DEFEAT CITY BOYS

C. R. Blackstock's Pickering City Juniors took on Lawrence Park Juniors at Newmarket in the rain last Thursday afternoon and beat them 6-1. The first half was even, with both sides using their kickers to try and gain the advantage.

Pickering overcame a long kick-off, that put them well back in their own territory for most of the second half, when they recovered a kick fumbled by Lawrence. Good plunging by the winners brought the ball in close to the goal-line and Pickering tossed a short pass for the only touch of the game. The Toronto team brought the ball close enough to kick a point and they were making a belated passing attack click well when the game ended.

War Savings Will Ease Peace Bumps, Says Miss Macphail

Turn From Knitting To More Difficult Work, Agnes Macphail Urges Women; Would Build New Order

Buying of war savings certificates was urged but knitting was queried in one of Miss Agnes Macphail's typically not-a-dull-moment addresses before Sharon Women's Institute in the township hall at Sharon last evening.

It was a W.I. "at home" night, and it was a "home-coming" night for Miss Macphail too, for she taught in Sharon in the days before she won a seat in parliament.

"We should cut consuming buying to a minimum," Miss Macphail declared. "At the end of the war we almost dread—as much as we want peace—the unemployment and dislocation that will result. If we save now, and yet frequently brought him a lot of censure."

"We should co-operate and support co-operation in all its phases. We should co-operate as producers in selling and we should co-operate as consumers in buying. We must continue to educate ourselves. We should not pass up the opportunity, for instance, to participate in the farm radio forums which start on Monday evening."

"If we want a new social order we must be willing to accept the disciplines it imposes on us. We must have enough faith in our ideal to accept and work for it."

"It is time we quit lauding people because they are rich," was one of Miss Macphail's parting shots. "They may be laudable but it is not because they are rich."

MRS. CHAS. DOANE DIES AT 83 YEARS

An active worker in the Women's Institute, of which she was a life member, Mrs. Chas. Doane died at her home on Yonge St. on Monday. She was in her 84th year.

Esther Jones was born at Belleville. Her family was of United Empire Loyalist stock. Her great-grandfather, Capt. John Waldon Myers, built the first brick house in Upper Canada in 1794, when Belleville was known as Myers Creek.

She married Charles Doane and came to the present Doane home as a bride. Next January Mr. and Mrs. Doane would have celebrated their 58th anniversary.

Mrs. Doane was the last surviving member of her family. A sister died last year in her 96th year.

Mrs. Doane is survived by her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Dorcas Kennedy of Hamilton, Mrs. Dora McCombs of Dunnville, Mrs. Clara Gilbert of Aurora, and four sons, Gilbert of Ottawa, John of Norval, Rufus of Montreal and David at home.

The funeral service was held at her late residence on Wednesday afternoon. Pallbearers were four grandsons, Jack McCombs, Charles Kennedy, Anson Gilbert and James Doane, and two sons-in-law, Burton Gilbert and William Kennedy.

Rev. Burton Hill, minister of the Friends church, Newmarket, conducted the service. Mrs. Doane was a member of the Society of Friends. Interment was made in the Quaker burying ground adjoining the Doane property on Yonge St.

Losers Seekers, But Finders Aren't Keepers

Clarke Hill, a senior student at Newmarket high school, on Monday afternoon found a substantial sum of money on Main St. It was wrapped in a handkerchief.

"I am opposed to beverage rooms," he said. "My wife and family can enjoy a drink of beer too, but they have never been in a beverage room."

"In Newmarket, there are too many men now going to Bradford to spend money that their families should have for food, clothing, shoes and other necessities."

"Other business men that I know are opposed to the beverage rooms. One man, who drinks quite a bit himself, says that he will give up business here if beverage rooms are established. There would be several of them. I know of options that have been taken on various properties in town on the chance that the vote will carry."

"And another thing is that customers who have been drinking too much are just a nuisance. They drive away good customers."

"The temperature people should get busy now if they don't want beverage rooms."

ment in Australia represents agriculture too) will be just a little more of the people than an old-party government. Take the C.C.F. representatives in the B.C. legislature. They are not an average group of politicians. The leader, Harold Winch, is 34 years of age and has been in the legislature since he was 26. He had previously been on relief. His father is also a member of the legislature and a member of the same party. His 6,000 majority was the largest in the province.

Three of the elected CCFers are women. The others include two farmers, a miner, an agricultural implement dealer, a metal-worker, a bricklayer (the leader's father), a school-teacher, a lawyer.

Whatever happens to the C.C.F. movement in British Columbia, this group of people are going to do the province a lot of good. They will present a fresh and challenging viewpoint, which should contribute both to British Columbia's war effort and her post-war reconstruction effort.

PAINLESS WAR

Naturally, most people would like to get a cost-of-living bonus, but those who get a bonus get nothing if everybody else gets it. They handle more money, but their money won't buy any more than it would before. One fellow's bonus goes into the other fellow's cost of living, and no progress is made. It should be clear to most people by now that the cost of living bonus was a short-sighted political move. No one can find a painless way for the average citizen to pay his war taxes. The cost of living was bound to be increased to the extent of the heavy new war taxes. Now it is being increased to the additional extent of the cost-of-living bonus being extended to all workers in industry.

The cost of living bonus will help some people, until it comes back to them in increased prices. Farmers, retired people, pensioners, and others will not be helped. They will have to pay their own war taxes and the industrial worker's too.

Dr. F. Cyril James, principal of McGill University, says: "If selling prices are frozen how can enterprises which have not already granted such a bonus be expected to do so on Nov. 15? If, on the other hand, enterprises are to be allowed to raise their selling prices to cover the bonus, how can we avoid the secondary effect of such action in raising the cost of living for other people and so providing an argument for further bonuses to all workers?

"If the policy as a whole (control of prices and wages) is effectively administered there will be no reason for an additional cost-of-living bonus for the duration of the war, and it would have been better to omit this portion of the scheme.

"The basic necessity for a successful war effort is personal sacrifice—and a general cost-of-living bonus tends to reduce the extent of that sacrifice, unless it is to be accompanied by heavier taxation on all incomes.

"Admittedly, the problem of those individuals with the lowest standards of living is not easy to solve, but I suspect that the general provisions for cost-of-living bonuses to large groups of workers will complicate rather than solve it."

EASY DOES IT

The Era last week made the mayor, Dr. L. W. Dales, request Newmarket citizens to raise their war savings objective "quietly and willingly." The words should have been "quietly and willingly." Anyway, Newmarket is going to do the job without the aid of any black-outs, air-raid sirens and screaming bombs.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

PRICE CONTROL

(Orillia Packet and Times)

The manner in which the dominion government's strong action in freezing prices and wages has been received is a cheering indication of the readiness of the Canadian people to submit to radical interference with their ordinary way of living and doing business if such measures are needed to strengthen Canada's war effort. Protests have been few and far between, though the regulations must involve many instances of individual hardship. Much will depend upon the discretion with which they are administered. But for the time being at least, there appears to be less friction and greater unanimity in promoting the highest possible industrial production than for months past. The lesson should not be lost upon the government—that the people of Canada welcome strong and decisive leadership, even where sacrifice is involved, rather than dilatory and compromising attempts to please all sections. Such efforts at "unity" really foster contention and disunity.

DON'T CONDEMN ALL FOR A FEW

(Barrie Examiner)

A Barrie lady a few days ago was belaboring military men in general because she had seen a number of drunks on the street. She said quite emphatically that in view of this she didn't a great deal of use for soldiers. The lady displayed a method of reasoning which is all too prevalent these days, and which is totally unfair to the fighting forces. True, one often sees soldiers on the streets of Barrie the worse of liquor. No one regrets this state of affairs more than we do, but in fairness it should be pointed out that the percentage is not great.

There are many thousands of soldiers in Camp Borden, and the number who drink to excess is comparatively small. That being the case we think the soldiers as a whole are to be condemned rather than condemned. It is really remarkable that with so many soldiers in camp, so few make a nuisance of themselves due to drinking.

A soldier's life is not the easiest to live. He is denied many of the ordinary amenities of civil life, and time often hangs heavily on his hands. That a few should get drunk is not surprising, especially when our provincial government appears to go out of its way to sell as much liquor as possible as a revenue producer. We believe that the soldiers of Camp Borden are to be congratulated on their general behavior. It certainly compares well with the behavior of any group of civilians of similar strength. In any event it is hardly fair to paint all soldiers with the same brush, when only a very small minority make themselves disagreeable.

More than that, a Labor government is going to appreciate the viewpoint, the needs and failings of the masses. For instance, there is a tremendous lag between today's knowledge of health and diet and the actual health and diet of many people. Many families are undernourished and unhealthy, through lack of knowledge as well as through lack of means.

ROUND PEGS, ROUND HOLES

In war-time it is necessary to do some things that fortunately don't have to be done in peace-time. On the other hand, war often shows that desirable things thought impossible can be done if they have to be done. For instance, people are saying now that if Canada can put everybody to work today producing for war, then Canada could put everybody to work in peace-time, producing houses, automobiles, refrigerators, radios, bathrooms, cod liver oil, etc. Another example is the promising new plan to put army men in the jobs that they will fill best through psychological tests. This will be done both over in Britain, with the Canadian army, and here in Canada, with new recruits. Square pegs will be put into square holes, and round pegs into round holes. It is said that the German, Russian and U.S.A. armies have used this plan to good effect.

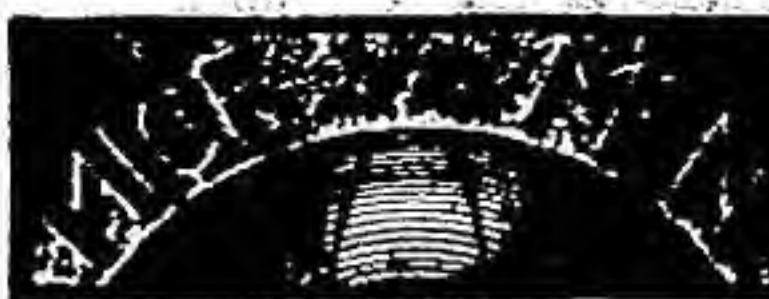

LABOR AT THE HELM

In Australia, where the national government and four of six state governments are now Labor, nothing unseemly will happen. There will be more social legislation of course, and probably the workingman will get the break even more than in the past in taxation, in industrial legislation, and any other matter for public decision. But there will still be capitalists, there will still be wealthy people; there will still be big industries. There is nothing to fear from a Labor government.

On the other hand, there are benefits to be expected from a Labor government. It is obvious that a Labor government is going to be under obligation to the masses of the people and not to important individuals, and therefore it is going to do its favors to those masses rather than to individuals. That is as should be, for the masses are an open society to which any of us may belong.

More than that, a Labor government is going to appreciate the viewpoint, the needs and failings of the masses. For instance, there is a tremendous lag between today's knowledge of health and diet and the actual health and diet of many people. Many families are undernourished and unhealthy, through lack of knowledge as well as through lack of means.

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Era: We doubt if there are 40 persons in Newmarket who take the "White Ribbon Tidings," the dominion temperance organ published by the W.C.T.U. women across this country. Therefore much information regarding the liquor traffic is not read and is unknown. We would like to pass on an article in the November issue, taken from the "Union Signal," the National W.C.T.U. paper of U.S.A., in their issue of Oct. 4, 1941. It is entitled "A call to action for defence of the home."

"Keep in mind that the brewers are doing their best to persuade persons of all classes that their business is needful and beneficial. They can fool some of the people some of the time, but they can't fool all of the people all of the time. Their agents are surely appearing as 'angels of light' with every device of which they are capable.

"Read this: The brewing industry's assaults upon American women and American homes is nothing new. It has been on a steady increase in volume and in audacity ever since beer came back by sanction of Congress before Repeal, but never until last month, did it load its pair propaganda on the pages of a prominent publication designed especially for feminine consumption.

"At the same time, in the October issue of the "Woman's Home Companion" (delivered in September) and in many other magazines, the very intelligent face of a lovely young woman looked out of a full-page advertisement for the United Brewers Industrial Foundation, and beside it was the psychologically clever challenge, 'How should an intelligent woman feel about beer and ale?' Every modern-minded wife and mother was urged to form an honest and unbiased judgment as to the place beer should hold in her life.

"Under the large-type heading, 'Beer and Young People' this modern-minded woman was told that: 'If a mother is truly wise, she will make home so attractive to her young people . . . that they will enjoy entertaining friends in their home . . . and kindly mellow beer is of great help. Served with a mother's approval and understanding it becomes an asset in . . . friendly gatherings of young people.' She was told also about the place beer can hold in her own social life as when you entertain, nothing is easier to serve than beer. Nothing is more economical . . . in relation to your family, your friends, and yourself. . . Beer should have a pleasant place in your life . . . and can do much to make life saner, sweeter, and more worthwhile.

"In conclusion, to use the brewer's own words 'The brewers of America are eager to have beer win the place it deserves in the confidence of forward-looking women: A beverage of moderation for the nation. As a tolerant and modern-minded woman, won't you help with understanding and support of the brewers' clean-up or close-up program,' to prevent abuses wherever they may occur in the retailing of beer and ale."

"Unfortunately thousands upon thousands of modern-minded women have no means of reaching the readers of these magazines with their version of how an intelligent woman should feel about beer and ale, but they can write to the publishers and protest such an assault upon the American home. They can write also to the advertisers who have paid for the space on the reverse side of the beer ads and explain that those pages have been deleted before the magazine went to the library table for family reading.

"Every woman who feels that the audacity of the brewers is an insult to American women should write at least to the publications which sent it into her home.

"On the reverse side of the sheet that carried the brewers' ad in Collier's was a milk advertisement. The milk company should be informed immediately that its ad has to be deleted or erased, before the magazine was read by the family." Newmarket W.C.T.U.

Editor, The Era: Your paper, I read, needs no praise from me. I read it with pleasure and profit.

At present I see Newmarket is the centre of an attack by the brewing interests, who naturally want to sell their beer.

It is a strange thing but the average doctor tells us that beer is one of the worst habit-forming drinks. It seems that the beer drinker is the most difficult of all the alcoholics to treat and cure.

Another thing about beer is that the real money maker is the brewer. He gets cash for his product and the tavern keeper or grocer who ladies out the beer at so much a glass and who also tries hard to get cash left holding the bag.

Montreal, as you know, is a free-for-all for the brewers. In spite of every encouragement the tavern keeper cannot make money anything like what all his hard work and long hours should warrant.

Recent legislation in Quebec has tended towards stopping the tremendous loss due to the sale of beer. Some attempt is made to check up on the cost of police, jails, hospitals, insane asylums, etc., which of course are a necessary adjunct to the licensed sale of beer. It is found that the license fees charged are just that the electric lights had to be turned on.

The deplorable and destructive spirit of outdoor tricks that of late years mark and mar the festival of Hallowe'en is to be deplored. No sooner did the electric light go out than a flash at 12 o'clock last Saturday night than a gang of hoodlums commenced tearing off business signs and misplacing them, running through the street with vehicles and placing them in ridiculous positions.

Town council met on Nov. 2. All members were present except Mr. Robertson.

about sufficient to take care of the wastage, hospitals, jails, poorhouses, asylums, charity organizations, etc.

The price of licenses has been increased and more taxes are asked, but still the balance is on the wrong side. For political reasons only a few are willing to take a stand in the matter and cut out the legal sale of beer altogether.

However, that is coming, for the liquor business as a whole is losing ground yearly because it is too wasteful of business resources.

Newmarket being a progressive town, I am very sure the citizens and business men generally will not consider such a backward step as that of legalizing the sale of beer by the glass.

POWERS COURSE
SOME A TRUCK TO LEARN HOW TO DRIVE

Taking a truck from a garage now where he worked in order to gain some experience in driving and obtain a driver's license formally in due course for 16-year-old Lester of Toronto. Not only did he have to face charges in the Toronto police court of breaking and entering and of stealing a truck but Tuesday was required to appear before Magistrate W. Macleod in Newmarket police court to answer charges ofreckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

According to Oliver Sutton, Toronto, who appeared in police court on charges, he was a trainee at Macleod and was returning to town when the defendant picked him up in north Toronto at about 2:30 a.m. on June 11. He said that he got into the back of the truck and that at the city limits a passenger who had been in the cab of the truck with the driver got out and another one got in. On their way north they picked up more soldiers until there were about nine or ten in the truck.

The witness went on to say that the defendant drove in a reckless manner on the curves and especially at Bond Lake. He said that they stopped for coffee at a restaurant in Aurora, where all got out of the truck. After leaving the restaurant three more soldiers got on the truck in place of those who would not go any further with them.

"We started off and he zig-zagged all over the road," stated Sutton. "Then he straightened out and went fast. The truck was on the pavement when I was thrown out and knocked unconscious."

Cross-examined by defence counsel, C. G. Elgie, Toronto, he said that he had had his leg broken in three pieces and received a slight concussion.

Joseph Patterson, whose home is in Oshawa, but who is stationed at the Newmarket military camp, testified that he too had been a passenger in the truck at the time of the accident.

"I got into the truck at the restaurant in Aurora," he stated. "I was sitting on the very back. The accused was driving. The truck started to sway as we moved on. Something hit me on the side of the head and knocked me unconscious."

The witness said that he did not remember the truck turning over. He became conscious while being driven to the hospital.

Sergeant Sidney Barracough of the York county police, testified that on June 11, at about 4 a.m., while proceeding south on Yonge St. with Constable Fleury, we came upon a truck at the north end of Aurora. It was turned over on its side, its headlights facing in a northeasterly direction. There were a number of soldiers crowded around. We stopped to see if anyone was injured and found that three had been taken to the hospital."

Aided by the crown, N. L. Mathews, K.C., if he had seen the defendant at the accident, the officer stated that he did not although he and Constable Fleury had gone some distance up the highway and along other roads. They also went to the restaurant to see if he had gone there to phone for help.

Questioned on the marks on the road, the officer said that skid marks started some distance south of where the truck came to rest. They started about three feet over the centre line of the road and turned sharply to the east, striking a curb and thence over some cement steps to where the truck was lying, its front wheels and left side damaged.

Asked about the weather conditions, the witness stated that the morning was clear and dry.

Cross-examined by the defence, Sergeant Barracough estimated the distance from the restaurant to the scene of the accident to be about 900 feet and the width of the road to be about 30 feet. He said that after hitting the curb the truck went over two or three cement steps about four feet high which caused the truck to go off balance.

In his testimony Constable Aubrey Fleury corroborated the evidence of the previous witness.

According to Detective George Holmes, of the Toronto police force, and Detective Adolphus Payne, also of the Toronto police force, after first cautioning the defendant, received a signed statement from him in which he stated that the glare of the headlights of an approaching car blinded him. "Do you know if the accused had a driver's permit?" the crown asked Detective Payne.

"No, he said that he was taking the truck out to get some experience in order to get a driver's permit."

In his defence, Napier stated that he had turned 16 years of age on Jan. 3 of this year. He said that he worked in a gas station and associated with the employees of another gas station nearby, from which he took the truck. In order to get it he had to break in a window. He said that he drove as far as Eglinton Ave. and was about to turn east when he saw a soldier standing on the corner. As there were no cars going in the direction the soldier was going, he turned about, picked him up, and proceeded north along Yonge St.

He said that he felt quite sure that he could handle a car and that he did not notice any "swerves" at Bond Lake or Aurora.

"After we came out of the restaurant in Aurora I shifted my weight to sit up a bit," stated the accused. "The steering shaft came out and I was headed straight for a car that was coming up over the hill. I jammed the wheel back and jerked the car back." He said that he had control of the car for a moment and then lost control again.

"I accept the evidence of Mr. Sutton and Mr. Patterson as to the manner of your driving from Toronto to the scene of the accident," stated his worship. "I think you were driving in a dangerous manner."

"I am taking into consideration your youth and that you have never been in trouble before until this silly escapade," Magistrate Woodliffe told Napier. "I am also taking into consideration the fact that you were tried for taking a car without the owner's consent and spent 21 days in jail. Otherwise I would send you to jail. I am fining you $30 and costs or 30 days on the reckless driving charge and prohibiting you from driving a car any place in Canada for the next two years. On the charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident I am fining you $25 and costs or 20 days."

Costs in the first charge amounted to $17.35 and $1.50 in the other.

Magistrate Woodliffe remanded for one week Donald Beemer, Belhaven, who is charged with stealing a quantity of poultry valued at $72 from F. Marritt. The defendant was allowed bail of $500.

His worship fined Earl Beare, Claremont, $1 and costs for entering a stop street.

For unlawfully driving on highway No. 77 after dusk without lights, E. Goodwin, Holland Landing, was fined $5 and costs.

Although L. E. Doucette, Camp Borden, failed to appear to answer charges of illegal consuming and parking, the case was heard.

According to Lieut. Richard Bradshaw, he and some other military officers were driving south on Yonge St. on Oct. 24, when, coming over the brow of a hill, he noticed a car parked on the road. The defendant was standing with his arm about his late friend at the side of the road. He noticed the reflection of a beer bottle. The witness said that as he stopped his car, another coming behind ran into it.

Constable Alex. Ferguson, who investigated, told his worship that he found the cap of the bottle in the Doucette car and the bottle in some brush at the side of the road. There was the odor of beer on Doucette's breath. He said that he had had some beer in Barrie.

Magistrate Woodliffe fined the defendant $10 and costs of $13.15 on the consuming charge and remanded him for sentence on the parking charge.

As the complainant, L. Boomstra did not appear in court, in the case of Weldon Graham, Bradford, charged with unlawfully obtaining goods for the amount of $22.10 by means of a worthless cheque was adjourned until Nov. 11. The defendant was bound in the sum of $100 and a summons to appear was ordered issued for Mr. Boomstra.

Charged with "passing," Herbert Gowland, Brampton, was fined $5 and costs.

Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson told his worship that he was patrolling highway No. 11 when he noticed the defendant's car attempt to pass two other cars, as they were coming up the brow of the hill. He said that as the defendant passed one he crowded it over to the car track.

Although he pleaded not guilty to having bad brakes, his worship found Almer Meyers, Zephyr, guilty of the charge and fined him $10 and costs or ten days.

"On Oct. 9, on the eighth concession of Whitechurch, I checked the accused's car," testified Constable Aubrey Fleury. "Its service brakes Continued from Page 1) King George, where the M.O.H. with the help of a nurse is able to toxoid all of them in a short time. Also, the pupils of the two rooms of St. John's separate school are being done at this school.

Chief Constable Fisher Dunham and Constable James Goulding were busy until early in the morning matching wits with several "gangs" and more than proved a match for the boys, whom they kept on the run, gradually dispersing them.

Six special deputies were on duty until 1 a.m., doing a splendid job. On Yonge St., except for soap writing on windows, there was very little activity.

"A case of cerebro-spinal meningitis was reported in from the military camp on Sunday. The afflicted soldier was rushed to a military hospital in Toronto, where he died the same day. As a precautionary measure all contacts are being quarantined for a period of ten days.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Best news arising from the present hockey situation in Aurora is the word that Tommy, sensational rookie defenceman of last year, will definitely play under Aurora colors. Not only will Tommy be back, but he will bring one or two promising candidates for the team. Tommy is at present suffering from a broken collarbone, but is in good shape and keen to take to the blades again. There was no more dangerous attacker or neater poke checker last year in the whole group than Tommy.

George Stark will be in the line up again and a chunky youngster by the name of Jimmy Murray will accompany him as candidate to catch Tommy's eye.

Bruce Stephens will be available for a left wing berth and he is busy at basketball these days, getting some needed conditioning. Eric Bilek and Blondie Taylor will try their hands again and with a bit of experience behind them will be off to a better start. Vic Alexander also is keen to have another whirl, while the rest of last year's team are either too old, gone elsewhere, or not included in the coach's present plans.

Mervyn Broughton will once again wear an Aurora sweater after two years with the neighboring Redmen and he should be ready for a sensational year. Myles MacInnis, the most versatile player and one of the most valuable of the whole group, will be a certain starter.

Brian Thompson, the Sutton flash, has announced his intention of being at the first practice, along with Ivan Gilbey, while Son Rowntree, Jelley, Whitley Jones, Vic Lane, Mickey Sutton and Eric Smith, fresh from the inter-town midget series of last year, are likely to crash into prominence. Jones, in particular, should have a real chance, while Lane, if his ankle is right, might make the defence, as he has put on quite a bit of weight.

These are not the only kids available, but they are among those we remember from last year. However, every youngster will be given a full opportunity to make the grade, according to Jim Walker.

Pete Dillman, who did a nifty job in goal for Newmarket a couple of years ago, but was displaced by Frank Carr, intends to contest the goal-tending job, while Wyatt Baile, and Bruce Cutting, who is now employed in the Collis leather office, will also be hard to displace in the nets.

Owen Johnston, the former Tiger candidate, who never reached the form here he displayed with East York, is ready to try again and should be about due for a good year.

All this doesn't mean by any yardstick of measurement that the team is picked, but it does indicate that at this stage at least the local hockey prospects are a whole lot brighter than last year. And remember that in the junior C hunt of last year, while not possessing an outstanding record, Aurora did give the championship Markham Aces their hardest battles.

Charlie Rowntree has had too much experience to count his chickens in advance, but he does feel that he has possibilities, to say the least. You can have your strategists and tacticians, but there's no coach can keep a better spirit in the dressing room or get more out of his boys than the same Rowntree.

Finances are, of course, quite a problem, but bucked up by the player situation, the local executives are prepared to do their best. We know the people of the district will get behind them, too, once things get underway, but

Schomberg

Schomberg, Oct. 30.—Mrs. E. Leithwood spent the weekend with relatives in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Aitchison, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Aitchison and children visited Mr. and Mrs. D. McIntosh on Sunday at Shelburne.

A large number from here attended the anniversary services held at 2nd King Baptist church on Sunday and were amply repaid in the addresses they heard.

Mr. Wm. Crane was taken to the hospital on Friday morning, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wood and daughter, Muriel, spent Sunday with friends at Barrie.

Mr. C. Merchant of Weston called on relatives here Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. McKay visited Mrs. McKay's parents at Uxbridge on Sunday.

PROOF
The bus conductor handed back the shilling to the woman passenger.

"This coin is no good," he told her. "It's spurious."

"Ridiculous!" she said, examining the coin. "Why, it's dated 1921. It would have been noticed before this if it had been bad."

NORTH GWILLIMBURY
CONTRIBUTE $100 FOR
RED CROSS BLANKETS

The North Gwillimbury Red Cross branch monthly sewing and quilting days for October were very well attended and more quilts were completed than at any previous time.

One finished quilt was donated by Mrs. Lloyd Kay of Belhaven and one quilt top by Mrs. Keilington of Keswick. In all, 14 quilts were completed and are already on their way.

It was decided to hold the next sewing and quilting days on Nov. 10 and 20, and will each lady who attended the last sewing and quilting try to bring one new recruit with her for November.

The Red Cross is very appreciative of the use of the power machines loaned by a number of the ladies.

One hundred dollars was voted to be sent from the branch for the purchase of blankets, which are so urgently needed just now.

STEWART BEARE
ROBERT GALBRAITH
DIES AT CEDAR BRAE

No church service was held here last Sunday on account of the Sandford anniversary services. Some from here attended.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Palmer and Joan were visiting Mrs. Palmer's mother and father here over the weekend. Mrs. Rynard returned with them for a few days' visit.

Mr. Wilfrid Galbraith and family were visiting at the home of his father and mother on Sunday.

Miss Julia Madill, Miss E. Fraser and Mrs. Jas. Galbraith were visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. Horner on Sunday evening.

Miss Julia Madill entertained some of the ladies last Thursday evening at a euchre party.

The village had a very quiet Hallowe'en. No pranks were played in this district. Nearly everyone treated the children.

Robert Galbraith of Cedar Brae, who had been in poor health for some time, passed away at his home Tuesday morning.

He is survived by his wife, his brother, James, of Zephyr, and three sisters, Mrs. Crawford of Baldwin, Miss Eleanor and Dr. Jane of Orillia. The funeral will be held at Sutton on Thursday afternoon, with interment in Briar Hill cemetery, Sutton.

The W.I. will hold their next meeting on Nov. 13 in the community hall at 2:30 p.m. The topic will be Agriculture; roll-call, "Name a Canadian apple;" current events, Mrs. W. C. Curl, Mrs. Willbord; program committee, Mrs. W. P. Sellers, Mrs. E. Profit; address, Mr. Campbell, Uxbridge, agricultural representative; hostesses, Mrs. W. M. Rynard, Mrs. W. J. Rynard, Mrs. L. BELHAVEN

The Bethel church anniversary will be held in the Bethel church on Sunday morning at 11 a.m. when the minister from Georgina will preach and the Indian choir from the Georgina church will furnish the music. There will also be an evening service open at 7:30 p.m.

On the following evening there will be a hot fowl supper held in the Belhaven community hall, when roast goose and an abundance of other good things will be served. Supper will be served from 5:30, standard time, until all are served. This will be followed by a good program, consisting of a travologue of moving pictures. The Bethel people are working hard for their church and hope for a good crowd.

The two days of Red Cross sewing, Oct. 29-30, in the hall, proved successful. There were 58 ladies out on Wednesday and 43 on Thursday. Thirteen quilts were made and several garments quilted. Mrs. Lloyd Kay donated a lovely quilt to the Red Cross.

Since January the Red Cross have quilted and sent away 95 quilts. Thirty-three of these quilts were done at Keswick and 63 quilted in the Belhaven community hall this summer and fall, and a good many pyjamas were also made. The days for the Red Cross sewing in the community hall in November will be Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 10 and 20, from nine to five o'clock. As there will be no meeting in December all are asked to plan to make these two days a huge success in the different line of sewing for war victims.

The Red Cross society has postponed their dance from Friday, Nov. 7, to a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson of Toronto visited at the home of Mrs. Wilson's sister, Mrs. Wm. Winch, on Sunday afternoon.

The Bethel W.A. held a quilting at the home of Mrs. M. D.

SHARON
CHURCH FRIENDS HOLD
SHOWERS FOR BRIDES

The October meeting of the W.A. of St. James' church was held at the home of Mrs. R. J. Rogers. It was splendidly attended and after the business part of the meeting a bale was packed for western relief. The bale consisted of many excellent articles of warm clothing and a quilt donated by Mrs. W. L. Knight. It was decided to hold the next meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pearson in Newmarket.

Two showers of interest, at which members of both Sunday-school and congregation of St. James' church gathered to show their appreciation and affection, were held recently. The first was that held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Gross, when a presentation of a library table with book-ends and a small silver tea service was made to Gertrude W. Gross on the eve of her marriage.

Gertrude for a number of years had served in both church and Sunday-school, and in making the presentation on behalf of the members of St. James', R. J. Rogers, the superintendent, urged the young people to support the work of the Sunday-school.

On the eve of her marriage the members of St. James' gathered at the home of Miss Blanche Hall and presented her with a large cut glass flower bowl and also a small silver tea service. Mrs. R. J. Rogers made the presentation on behalf of the Sunday-school and Rev. A. J. Forte brought good wishes from members of the congregation.

Blanche was a former secretary-treasurer of the Sunday-school. On both occasions, the happy gatherings were brought to a close with games, music and refreshments, many good wishes being extended to the young couples.

ROCHE'S POINT
Bishop Will Dedicate
Church Honor Roll

A service of wide interest will be held in Christ church, Roche's Point, on Sunday, at 11 a.m. D.S.T., when His Grace, Archbishop Durayn T. Owen of Toronto, will administer the rite of confirmation on candidates from three churches in the mission.

At the same service His Grace will dedicate a roll of honor for the 55 members of Christ church and community, who have been and are now serving in the Horned and Mrs. E. Nelson last Friday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute will be held in the community hall on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 2:30 o'clock. A good program is provided and a hearty invitation is extended to all.

forces of the king. Two flags for the chancel, the gift of the W.A., and a book rest for use on the communion table, a gift of a friend of the congregation, will also be dedicated.

Justice F. G. McFarland and J. Bruce MacKinnon will present the roll of honor for dedication and a color party from the Girl Guides will present the flags. The incumbent, Rev. A. J. Forte, and the church warden, extend a personal invitation to all friends and members of the congregation to join in this memorable service.

Mount Albert

The Women's Institute sponsored a party for the young folks in the hall last Friday evening and treated them to candy, cookies and sandwiches.

Very little damage was done around the town on Hallowe'en, but some tricks played on women who live alone are rather a disgrace to the young men who enter into these pranks.

A number from here attended the Robertson-Hall wedding at Sharon Anglican church on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Geo. Walker has been confined to bed owing to a rather bad heart condition.

Mr. G. W. E. Macpherson was called to Carlton Place on Saturday as his father was taken seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cowie of Markham and Mrs. J. T. Crozier of Guelph were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Steeper over the weekend.

Rev. R. V. Wilson went to Utica on Sunday evening for anniversary services and Mount Albert withdrew their service.

On Sunday anniversary services will be held in the United church, when Rev. H. O. Hutchison of Shelburne, a former minister at Mount Albert, will be the guest speaker and there will be special music by the choir, assisted by soloists from Toronto. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Miss Margaret Thirkle of Toronto visited relatives in town over the weekend.

Miss Theodora Harrison has taken a position in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wagg of Goodwood spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. H. Leadbetter.

On Friday evening, Nov. 7, the Red Cross are having a euchre and dance in the hall and will have Audrey Smith's orchestra. The beautiful table cover donated by Mrs. Rennie, Sr., will be given away to the lucky winner. Everyone is urged to be on hand at 8 o'clock and help the good work along that is being done by the Red Cross.

A hot turkey supper is to be held in the United church on Wednesday evening, Nov. 12, when there will also be a good program given by Miss Fallowdown, humorous elocutionist; Laura Johnson, character entertainer; Mrs. G. W. Johnson, A.T.C.M., pianist and accompanist; vocal and instrumental, character and novelty numbers, skits and patriotic selections. Everyone is asked to keep the date in mind. The program will be given in the hall and also in the church.

The Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Couper on Thursday, Nov. 13, with Mrs. H. Evans and Mrs. Gordon Main prize as hostesses. There will be a paper on legislation, current events on Canadianization, music, and roll-call, "surprise." Come prepared. All ladies are welcome.

Dr. and Mrs. L. Stokes of Hanover were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stokes over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Max. Walker of Greenside were at the home of Mr. Walker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Walker, on Sunday.

Glenville

Glenville, Oct. 31-Mr. and Mrs. Allan Vradenburg of Toronto spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Harris.

The ladies of Glenville are packing a soldier's ditty bag.

The special evangelistic services which were held last week in the church were well attended, considering the rainy weather.

Evangelist Arthur Smith presented the gospel in a plain and simple manner each evening and a time of blessing was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Smith played his violin at

Fred Ball is able to be up now, after spending two weeks in bed with shingles.

The pupils of Eversley school held their Hallowe'en frolic on Thursday afternoon, leaving Friday free for the plowing match, as Beverley Neill was a contestant.

Some of the ladies attended the frolic and enjoyed it very much. The pupils were in costume, and after a brief program they played games, had a contest and enjoyed the teacher's treat of candy.

Eversley boys brought home prizes from the plowing match held on the farm of Wm. Barker, of Tecumsehville, on Friday.

Leonard Shropshire and his mare won awards and Mervyn Wells came fifth in his class.

Beverley Neill, a nine-year-old, won the prize as being the youngest contestant and won second prize in his class with a wheel plow. Three cheers for Beverley! He has followed a horse with harrows since he could walk, and is the making of a fine, sturdy farmer.

Charles Cohen reports a great yield of red carrots, "as large as your arm," he says, and sweet and juicy. He feeds them to his hens, as he is a poultryman. So the egg yolks must have a rich color!

The sympathy of this farm community is felt for J. Percy Forester of Strange who lost six of his good milk cows. They were smothered when the straw stack fell over on them.
